Summary

An inspired final-year CSE student of Green University of Bangladesh having practical exposure to AI, ML, Blockchain and software development. Proficient with Python, Java, web technologies, and project management. It has conducted internships at Nixtec Systems and Wizard Software, and regularly participates in research and tech training. Built a few skunkwork apps and spoke at tech confs. Fewer work experiences but excellent academically, certified and students low-side, everything extra curricular. Excited to solve real-life problems with innovation and learning new things.
